HAZEL STROUP

UNION TOWNSHIP - BUTLER COUNTY, OHIO

Union Township was organized 2 June 1823. Originally, it was a part of Liberty Township, but on petition of a number of inhabitants of Liberty, that township was divided in 1823 and the portion set off on the south was called Union. The boundaries of the township are as follows: On the north by Liberty Township, east by Warren County, south by Hamilton County, and west by Fairfield Township. In the early days, this section of Butler County was called "the woods" because of the dense forest that covered the country.

Union Township was settled principally by Marylanders, Pennsylvanians and Virginians. The earliest settlers in the township were Captain Joseph Cox on section 22, Joseph McMake on section 4, George Van Ness section 5, Thomas Huron and Mr. Travis section 35, Michael Ayers, Brice Virgin, Samuel Seward, Abraham Montgomery, William Symmes, Benjamin Mead, James Thompson, Charles Legg, John C. Beckett, William Parrish, and others.

PORT UNION: The village of Port Union was laid off in 1827 by William Elliott. It was first called Maken's Bridge in honor of William McMaken who started the first grocery and built the first frame building in the village.

TYLERSVILLE: Commonly known as "Pug Muncy," it was laid off in 1842 by Daniel Pocock and named by John Sullivan after President John Tyler. The first building erected was by Michael Dalton and about 1830 a log school house was built and Elisha Dalton was the first teacher.

WESTCHESTER: Westchester is the oldest village in the township and was originally called Chester. On 2 October 1826, the name of the town and post office was changed to Westchester. Hezekiah Smith laid out the town in March of 1817. The first settlers in the neighborhood of Westchester included Joseph Cox, Charles Legg, John C. Beckett, William VanHise, John Cladwell, Sam Foster, James Cummins, Ezekiel Gard, Thomas Kennard, George Kennard, Michael Ayers, James Thompson, William Parrish, John Nixon, and others.

The Union Township Memorial Cemetery is located near the village, and was laid out in 1870. The old cemetery, which is a part of the present grounds has been in existence since 1830. The cemetery now comprises about 13 acres and is one of the most beautiful in the county.

MAUDS: The village of Mauds was first known as Shoemaker. It takes its name after Richard Maud, the first postmaster of the town. The first house built in Mauds was by Henry Sticles.

GANO: A small station on the Big Four Railroad near the southern part of the township. It was laid out in 1875 by Charles Gano, promoter of the short-line railroad.

RIALTO: Located about seven miles from Hamilton and at one time was the site of the Rialto paper Mills.

PISGAH: Is the highest point in Union township and the small village was named by William Belch, and so called from an old church that formerly stood on this land. William Belch came to Butler County about 1812 and kept the first hotel in the village.

The following cemetery inscriptions were copied first from the tombstones and then compared against the sexton's records in order to obtain the most complete information available on each of the families listed.
